Student Spotlight: Olivia

Teacher: Mr. Philip

Olivia is 11 years old and has been taking piano lessons since February 2023 with Mr. Philip. Learning piano has reinforced her love of music. She enjoys sharing each new song with friends and family.

Her dedication and enthusiasm shines through, making piano not just a skill she is developing, but a joyful part of her everyday life.

Olivia's other artistic interests include musical theatre, drawing and painting. Most recently she appeared in productions of Cinderella and Aladdin as a soloist.

Teacher Spotlight: Kevin Martinez

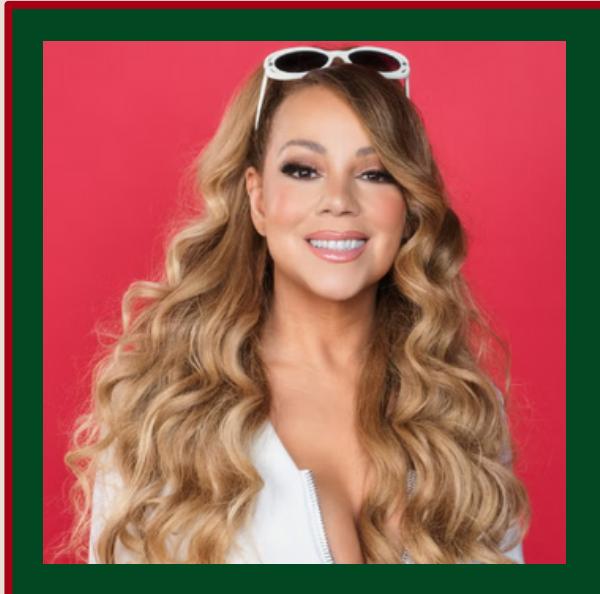

Kevin Martinez began learning the piano in 2010 and received his degree in piano performance in 2016, the same year he started teaching at the Natomas School of Music. He has traveled to Europe, twice, for piano competitions and lessons. He is currently on the MusicTeachers' Association of California Board, Sacramento Branch. Before music, Kevin was a physicist and computer programmer, he uses the math concepts he learned to teach music as a hybrid of mathematics and art. Some of his students have gone onto receive degrees in piano performance in New York, and many of them have received scholarships and honors for their performances around the world.
